

The 7th Annual Michael M. Ossoff Visiting Lectureship in Memory Disorders and Alzheimer's Disease

---

Can We Detect and Treat Alzheimer's Disease a Decade Before Dementia? (And Why We Should!)

presented by

Reisa Sperling, M.D.

Director, Center for Alzheimer's Research and Treatment,
Professor of Neurology, Harvard Medical School;
Director, Clinical Research, Memory Disorders Unit,
Brigham and Women's Hospital;
Director, Neuroimaging Program,
Massachusetts Alzheimer's Disease Research Center

Tuesday, April 12

12 p.m.***

Richard A. Grossi Auditorium
Asthma & Allergy Center
Johns Hopkins Bayview campus

For more information, contact Anne Kennan at 410-550-9890.

**Reception to follow at 1 p.m.*

The Ossoff Lecture is offered as part of the Medicine Grand Rounds series. CME (1 credit hour) will be provided to those who attend.

